

Startup in Residence Program Expands to 12 Jurisdictions Nationwide

Zack Quaintance | November 14, 2017

Startup in Residence (STiR), a program created in San Francisco in 2014 to make it easier for tech entrepreneurs to work with government, is expanding to 12 jurisdictions across the country, the largest of which are Washington, D.C., and Houston.

This marks the second major expansion for the program. In 2016, STiR went from being in San Francisco alone to three other cities in Northern California: Oakland, San Leandro and West Sacramento. Organizers' hope is to continue expanding the program throughout the country in the years to come.

<http://www.govtech.com/Startup-in-Residence-Program-Expands-to-12-Jurisdictions-Nationwide.html>